

Contents

Volume 9, number 1-2, June 2006

Special issue

International research on community centres for children and families: The importance of sensitive outcomes in evaluation

Guest editor: Marianne Berry

2

Identifying sensitive outcomes of interventions in community-based centres

Berry, M., Brandon, M., Chaskin, R., Fernandez, E., Grietens, H., Lightburn, A., McNamara, P.M., Munford, R., Palacio-Quintin, E., Sanders, J., Warren-Adamson, C., & Zeira, A.

11

Evaluating family centres: The importance of sensitive outcomes in cross-national studies

Lightburn, A., & Warren-Adamson, C.

26

Supporting families: Tracking interactions between families and professionals in Sydney,
Australia

Fernandez, E.

41

Mapping change in a child and family centre in Melbourne, Australia

McNamara, P.M.

53

A case study of a community-based family support centre in Quebec

Palacio-Quintin, E.

63

Confident workers, confident families: Exploring sensitive outcomes in Family Centre work in England

Brandon, M.

79

Accounting for change in family centres: Making sense of outcomes in Clayhill family centre in Southern England

Warren-Adamson, C.

92

What do we need for a successful intervention? The case of one Israeli family in deep distress

Zeira, A.

102

Small steps and giant leaps at Te Aroha Noa

Munford, R., Sanders, J., & Maden, B.